Q: array of Arrays, printing a specific element in a function I am new to the programming world and I don't know why I can't figure out why this question is giving me an error. I am trying to make a function where it prints to the screen in a message box, just the specified element that I choose for that specific array in the function. The error: Microsoft VBScript compilation error '800a0291' Array not supported. Dim qtyArray() qtyArray(0) = 0 qtyArray(1) = 20 qtyArray(2) = 5 Function qtyCallback(qty) MsgBox qtyArray(2) End Function A: Your issue is that qtyArray is an array of the size qtyArray(0) = 0. That is, you have declared a 2D array that is empty. (There is another mistake; you cannot really have a 0 as the first index of a 2D array. I presume that was just a typo in the original post.) Replace that declaration with a 1D array like so: Dim qtyArray() qtyArray = Array(0,20,5) Now you can use qtyArray(1) to access that element of the array. { list_del_rcu(&task->task_list); kfree(task); } } static void bch_cancel_work(struct work_struct
